Yamaha Takes GIANT STRIDES Production Upswing By Leaps And Bounds To Attain A Level of 800,000 Yearly

Strengthened Iwata Plant Starts Full Operation

Yamaha motorcycles have recently shown a spectacular upswing in sales both at home and abroad. It has become increasingly difficult for the company to satisfy ever growing orders with its existing production systems even in three-shift full scale operation. Accordingly, the compny has taken off to strengthen and expand the Iwata Plant in an unprecedentedly larger scale.

Now, the Iwata Plant has come out as Yamaha's new main and collective plant to take the most vital role to boost an annual output of motorcycles to a level of 800,000 units from 1971 on. It has already started full operation with 4 assembly lines of motorcycles to perform all production processes consistently in incomparably shorter time than ever to fulfil orders received as for each model. Also, included in a site covering a total area of 240,000m<sup>2</sup> are the snowmobile plant, automobile shop, die-cast shop, research and development department, as well as new parts center to be shortly completed as an ultra-modern facility of parts stock and supply.

Snowmobile Assembly Line

Yamaha snowmobiles are also enjoying a sharp upward trend in sales both at home and abroad. The snowmobile plant covering some 20,000m2 in building area is put in its full scale operation to turn out a total of 50,000 units per year for home and oversea markets.

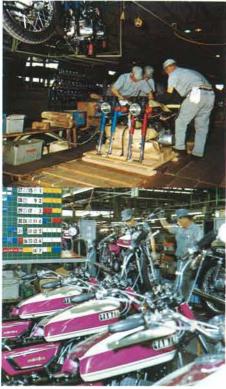

of 53,760 units of parts box to be house. therein. These advanced processes are claimed to increase handling capacity by 200%, and storage capacity by 150%.

New Parts Center

The new parts center under construction is expected to be completed at the Mid-Feb. It is to emerge as an ultramodern parts stock facility, incorporating highly mechanized and automated processes in overall functions to secure smoother parts supply system. Its rack building covers an area of 1,643m<sup>2</sup> with a storage space of 2,100m<sup>2</sup> enabling a total

All interior layouts are intended for higher productivity. All processes from production down to dispatch are consistently and efficiently performed. In particular, Yamaha is proud of its painting process as highest-levelled in the field of motorcycle engineering.

New Boats Make Debut

Yamaha Demonstration

A recent rapid increase of Yamaha motorcycles in Indonesia is largely due to the fact that Yamaha have won many races in the country. Most of the best riders in this country use Yamahas in their daily life, too.

Recently, 15 top-class riders including B. Hidajat, B. Suswanto, H. Tirtasaputra, and T. Hariyana, ranking from first to fourth, made a parade for publicizing Yamaha products as well as for conducting road tests. They followed a course extending about 1,000 km from Djakarta to Surabaja on Java Island, each riding his own Yamaha YF5S.

The parade of riders in Yamaha's uniform caps and jackets guided by a lightweight truck loaded with Yamaha signboards achieved spectacular effects for propaganda. Yamaha dealers in various places along the course positively assisted in this parade.

The press published the attempt with heavy headlines, especially emphasizing the superior performance of the 50cc Yamahas, all of which ran the whole course with no trouble at all.

It is expected that the success of this demonstration will further boost the share of Yamaha motorcycles in Indonesia.
